Introduction

As a companion to the larger Stanislaus County, Community Health Assessment, 2002, this community level analysis of information was undertaken to provide broad health information at the neighborhood level for our partnering community collaboratives in the Partnership for the Public's Health (PPH). These collaborative boundaries are illustrated in the map below and consist of the Airport Neighbors United, Inc (ANU), the Ceres Partnership for Healthy Children (CPHC), and the West Modesto / King-Kennedy Neighborhood Collaborative (WMKK).

The neighborhood on the west side of Turlock (WT) has been included as well for comparative purposes. It is similar to the communities involved in the PPH initiative in many ways, but it is located in the southern part of the county. By comparing health and demographic trends throughout the county, agencies and community collaboratives can gain a greater perspective on the issues that impact them.

This collection of health and demographic data is intended to be used in concert with the larger Community Health Assessment, 2002. Not all of the Stanislaus County and none of the California data are included in this companion publication, but they are included in detail in the larger volume
